

Spring Conference 2020
Session 4
Transparency & Communication in Local Government
Biographies

Cary B. Vargo, Director of Innovation & Business Services, ARRO Consulting, Inc.

Cary Vargo has thirty-two years of experience in local government, serving in various capacities in varying sized municipalities, from rural/suburban to large metropolitan communities. Cary has demonstrated experience and success in the operation and administration of various facets of local government. Cary is currently the Director of Innovation & Business Services for ARRO Consulting, Inc. Prior to joining ARRO, Cary served as the Township Manager in Upper Uwchlan Township for ten years. Cary also served for four years as Executive Director of the Chester County Association of Township Officials (2015 - 2019).

Cary has a M.A. in Public Administration with a Certificate in City Management from Villanova University. Cary also has a B.S. in Public Administration, with a Minor in Speech Communications – Public Relations, from Kutztown University and an A.A.S in Criminal Justice and Law Enforcement Administration from the Reading Area Community College.

Guy A. Donatelli, Esq., Lamb McErlane, P.C.

Guy Donatelli is a partner in the Litigation Department at Lamb McErlane. He concentrates his practice on employment and commercial litigation, representing individuals, businesses and municipalities in employment, business and land use disputes throughout Chester, Bucks, Delaware, Montgomery, Philadelphia and Lehigh counties and in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania.

In addition to his law practice, Guy serves as solicitor to a number of municipalities, including two townships and a school district, providing counsel on varied issues of local and regional public importance. At the state level, Guy has represented various agencies of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on issues of statewide significance. In particular, he has developed a niche practice in matters related to school zero-tolerance policies and student discipline.

Guy writes for the Pennsylvania Bar Institute's Continuing Legal Education program as a member of the faculty and has also published articles on issues faced by local and state governmental agencies. Guy has been named a Pennsylvania Super Lawyer since 2008. Guy served two terms on the Upper Uwchlan Township Board of Supervisors.